False Estimates--President Johnson. When we complain how unfairly we are often judged by our neighbors, how our motives are misconstrued, our policy mis-understood, and our strength and resources undersoloued by even friendly nations, it may not be amiss to reflect that we, too, may often be chargeable with the like er-rors in our judgment of other countries. It may be, as Scotland's poet has told us, a valuable gift to see ourselves as others see us; but the instances are numerous enough which attest the fact that others very often do not see us as we are, or know the truth about us as we ourselves know it. And as it is human to err, even the best-informed of English politicians must, if they are can-did, plead guilty to frequent convictions of mistaken judgment in their estimate of the position and prospects of foreign countries and of the policy and character of their his remark by a reference to the sayings and writings of English statesmen and ournalists with reference to France and its present ruler since the revolution of 1848, aly before and after its struggle for and unity some four or five years will take the most recent illusafforded by America during through the recent civil war, since that war was concluded, mall minority of English politiwho, even two years ago, bepossibility of the restoration? Did not one man who had high office in the State, and who was some ning more than a politician—a man who had written history, biography, and fiction, who is an essayist, a poet, and a dramatist, and who has won for himself a name in the very front rank of those men of genius whose names England will ever cherish and honor—did not Sir Bulwer Lytton predict that, so far from the Union being restored, the great American Republic would be broken up into half a dozen little republics? And how along ago was it that Mr. Gladstone, the virtual chief of the present Ministry, and the man to whom half a nation is looking as its political guide in the years to come, told us that the South had not merely revolted, but had succeeded in making itself a great nation?

How rapidly, too, all who write and talk of American politics are compelled to change their opinions of President Johnson? Spring had reached the very verge of summer when we were all still deplor ing that the loss sustained by America in the brutal assassination of President Lincoln was rendered tenfold more calamitous coin was rendered tenioid more calamitous because of the character of the man who, by constitutional rule, succeeded to him. Autumn is not yet ended, but who talks of "drunken Andrew Johnson" now? Are not the very men who predicted and dreaded his violence now compelled to admit that he is conducting perhaps the greatest and most difficult work ever entrusted to a statesman, with rare firmness, good sense, and moderation? The President who was to confiscate the property of the Confederates, and who was to hang as traitors all ates, and who was to hang as traitors all who had taken a leading part in the Con-federate war, is now confidently approached by the leading men of the Southern States who want to resume the occupations that had made them prosperous before the war broke out, and his chief work for weeks past has been in granting pardons all round. Not only are the Confederate Generals par-doned, but the members of the Confederate Congress, and every man, be he whom he may, who is elected by a Southern State to be a member of the new Congress. The President who was to be so violent and headstrong is now suffering the usual pen-alty of moderation and justice, and is dis-trusted by the extremes of the two contending parties.

Then there was the American debt, and there was the new taxation imposed to meet the interest and repayments upon it. Nothing was clearer, according to all the laws of the political economists, than that America ought to have been bankrupt be-fore now. The national debt occasioned by the late war closely approaches £600,000,000.
The State debts—for each loyal State fitted out regiments at its own cost and went into debt for the purpose—amount to nearly £400,000,000 sterling more. So that, putting the losses and debts of the Southern States on one side altogether, the war has brought upon the United States a debt far exceeding that of Great Britain and bearing that ing that of Great Britain, and bearing much larger interest—and therefore requir much larger interest—and therefore requiring a much larger revenue to meet it—than the British debt does. Yet we hear not the faintest whisper of "repudiation." And as to taxation, which we are told the Americans would not endure, we learn that in the month of September alone the receipts on account of taxes by the Government amounted to £12,000,000. Of course, we know the wisdom conveyed in the warning know the wisdom conveyed in the warning "don't halloo till you are out of the wood." The settled pressure of the burden of taxation has not yet been felt. And it will not be until the currency of the United States is brought into a healthy condition that we are indeed how much of the present that we can judge how much of the present apparent prosperity is real or fictitious. While three five-dollar notes are considered equal only to ten dollars in specie, it is premature to say how the United States will bear the enormous debt, and the consequently heavy taxation, which result from the late war. If we in England were to find three five pound Bank of England notes worth no more than ten sovereigns, we should be very apt to distrust any ap-parent prosperity that might attend upon

Such a phenomenon.

Another thing was foretold. The sudden disbandment of the vast Federal army was not only to be a cause of great embarrassment, but of real danger. It was not to be supposed that nearly a million of men, accustomed to military service, could be suddenly cast adrift, without becoming something like a disciplined band of vagrants. They were not at all likely to return at once to old habits of peaceful industry, and the probability, in English estimation was, that only by a raid into Canada, or a Mexican expedition, could there be a chance that the home danger of such a formidable with the country of the sadden of the slaying of this man, for which we were bidden to wait in patience, and which we were angrily told would be so conclusive and triumphant, is still kept in secret by Gov. Eyre.

We state with extreme regret that small-pox is some weeks since. Mr. Nasby's friends should provide him an asylum ere it be too late.

We state with extreme regret that small-pox is some weeks are fatal, and though chiefly visiting the negroes, it has too late.

unpaid and unoccupied army would be esanpaid and unoccupied army would be es-caped. Well, $50,000 soldiers have been disbanded. We learn that they have all returned to habits of peaceful industry. They are engaged in making money instead of shedding blood. One of their great genof shedding blood. One of their great generals is engaged in managing a railway. Another is in good practice as an engineer. A third has become a lawyer. And a fourth is doing a good stroke of business as a general merchant. There is no talk of pensions or rewards. And it would really seem as if the Federal and Confederate armies were like a number of tradesmen who had gone out to quell a street riot and had then quietly returned to their ordinary avocations.

Of course we shall be told that it is all very well for us to say these things now, but that we ourselves have been guilty of not a few of the mistaken estimates of our neighbor across the Atlantic that we have just been pointing out. We must plead guilty. Well, we do not pretend to be wiser than our well-informed neighbors. In matters of opinion the best men often err, and in this case our errors have been made in in this case our errors have been made in good company. We are quite contented to be ranked no higher in foresight and sagac-ity than Sir Bulwer Lytton and Mr. Glad-stone. Two things, however, we do hope. And the first is that the lessons which the American war have taught us will lead writers and speakers in England to be less dogmatic than they have hitherto been in discussing and deciding the policy of for-eign countries; and the second is that they will think more charitably than they have hitherto done of the false estimates of foreign writers when treating of the position, resources, and prospects of Great Britain, and the policy and character of our chief statesmen.—English Paper.

President Johnson's Message.

The message of President Johnson, covering a report of Lieut. General Grant upon Southern affairs, will be read with deep in-Southern affairs, will be read with deep interest throughout the country. In a few decisive sentences the President clearly states his own views on the tendency of public sentiment throughout the South, and then refers approvingly to Grant's exposition of the popular feeling as he observed it in a recent tour. It cannot be denied that the Lieutenant General is as impartial and reliable a witness as could have been selected. With no other motive than the common good, and having the advantage of his mon good, and having the advantage of his high military position to secure informa-tion, in addition to what he personally discerned, his statements will have that weight with Congress, the Executive and all loyal men, which the opinions of so enlightened and distinguished an officer deserve. The propositions therefore recommended by propositions, therefore, recommended by him as the basis of the future policy of the Government are of great importance. Gen, Grant advises the continuance of the military throughout the South. Of the Freedmen's Bureau—that indispensable safeguard of the enfranchised race—he says, "in some form, the Bureau is an absolute necessity until the civil law is established and enforced, securing to freedmen their rights and full protection." He highly commends Gen. Howard, the head of the organization, and suggests that, to secure the ut-most efficiency in its operation, cognizance of its measures be permitted any officers stationed in the same districts, with those of the Bureau. No fair-minded or coolheaded patriot can object to the results which the Lieutenant General publishes for the benefit of the different branches of the Government, and we are confident that discrepancies occur it will make the discrimination required by circumstances. Although, no doubt, a general policy will be pursued, modifications of the same will be made to meet local exigencies. The blacks undoubtedly obtained their first ideas of a division of the land among them by hearing their masters talk at the outset of the rebellion.—Boston Transcript,

Mr. Spurgeon on the Milenilum.

The Pall Mall Gazette says, "Somebody has been sending to Mr. Spurgeon some tracts purporting to be written by himself, which predicts the end of the world as likely to come next year, The reverend gentleman, at a meeting held in his chapel this week, thus energetically repudiated the authorship attributed to him: "You will hear of me in Bedlam when you ever their such rubbish as that from me.

The Lord may come in 1866, and I shall be glad to see Him; but I do not believe He will; and the reason why I do not believe He will is, because all these two-penny half-penny false phrophets say He will. If they said He would not come, I should begin to think He would; but inasmuch as they are all crying out as one man that He will come in 1866 or 1867, I am inclined to think He will not arrive at any such time. It seems will not arrive at any such time. It seems to me that there are a great many prophe-cies which must be fulfilled before the coming of Christ, which will no be fulfilled within the next twelve months; and I perfer to stand in the position of a man who knows neither the day nor hour in which the Son of Man cometh—looking always for his appearing, but never interfering with those dates and figures, which seem to me to be the only proper amusement for young ladies only proper amusement for young ladies who have nothing else to do, and who take to that instead of reading novels, and certain divines who have exhausted their stock of knowledged about sound doctrine and therefore try to gain a little ephemeral popularity by shuffling texts of scripture, as the Norwood gipsies shuffled cards in the days gone by,"

A Great Country.

A letter received at the Treasury Department a few days since from the Collector of Internal Revenue for the Territory of Montana, announced that the product of the gold and silver mines of that Territory for the current year will be upward of sixteen millions of dollars. We wonder what proportion of the people of this city have any idea where Montana is? Those who have heard of it at all, have probably a general notion that it is away off somewhere near to where the sun sets; but whether east or west of the Missouri River, west or east of the Rocky Mountains, only those who are fortunate enough to possess a recent, and what is more, a correct map, will be able to tell. We have no doubt that a good many will inquire as to the facts when they learn that a small number of miners have taken sixteen millions of gold and silver from its bowels during the year. Wall street will doubtless be anxious about the matter, and we advise the wise men down there who think our na-tional currency worthless, to buy a pick and shovel with what they can raise of it, and start for Montana, where they can get the real metal for the trouble of digging it up. This is a great country.—New York Times.

For the Union Press. PARAPHRASTIC.

For the benefit of Sabbath readers in the Sunday Democrat, we republish in the Press the following piece of poetry in a corrected form; better suited to rebel sympathies as it is, especially of that class of Southern preachers who retain and preach hatred of a free gospel and a loyal ministry:

"Let's kill one another," said the rebel preacher; "Put up your swords," the Lord said to his discip But rebel prechers urged bowie-knives and rifles.' Look to your hearts, we say to such creatures; Are Christ's disciples rebel war preachers?

Turn thy sword to a plow-share, thy spear to a hook, But secession teaching the new doctrine affords, Turn your church bells to cannon, and sickles to swords. Say, shall we follow the doctrines Christ taught, Or look we to such preaching for our thought?

Shame, cry shame to such preachers of God's holy word, Who laid down the Bible and took up the sword; Who with mission of peace, war and plunder proclaime Till surplice and pulpit were sin-covered and shamed?

Say, shall disciples of Christ still remain, With rebel preachers to stay and be slain

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT—Judge Ballard, Presiding.—United States vs. 145 barrels of whisky, &c.—This was a proceeding in rem under the 54th section of the Internal Revenue act of July 1, 1862, and the 68th section of the act of June 30, 1864.

The issues of fact, as well as of law, were, by agreement of parties, tried by the Court.

1. That the limitation contained in the said 54th and 68th sections is, in the strict and technical sense, a limitation; and, therefore, that the information is good, although it does not show, on its face, that the seizure was made or the proceedings com-

2. That, although in ordinary civil actions the statute of limitations must be specially pleaded, this rule does not apply in penal actions or in actions to enforce forfeitures. In such actions the defendant or claimant general issue.

3. That the owner, agent or superintendent of any still, boiler, or any other vessel used in the distillation of spirits, is bound from day to day to make true entry in a book kept for that purpose of the number of gallons distilled, as well as the number placed in warehouses or sold or removed for consumption or sale.

4. That for every neglect or refusal to make such entry, he forfeits all the spirits made by or for him, and the stills, boilers and other vessels used in distillation.

The Administration will undoubtedly take a comprehensive survey of the whole broad field to be reconstructed. gence of the fact of seizure and causes of forfeiture; and, consequently, that although in this case the collector communicated to the District Attorney the seizure, with the causes or forfeiture, on the 24th of October, this cannot avail. The property seized must be returned to the claimant.

The Elements of Treason Still Alive. The Richmond Examiner, one of the most pestilent of the rebel journals, has been revived, and the first number of the new series, containing the following extracts, will give some idea of its tone and spirit:

Slavery is dead, but the principle on which slavery rested—the common sense view of human nature, is not dead. Secession is dead-but how far secession was an instrument for asserting a principle itself in the minds of the Southern people, is a question which may admit of discussion. Secession was tried as a remedy. It was a desperate remedy. It has failed. was a desperate remedy. It has We were conscientious in trying it. We were conscientious in trying it. There is no human probability that we shall try it again. But the principle of the equal rights of the States—that principle which constitutes the practical element of State sovereignty—though in abeyance, is by no means extinct. It is asserted boldly today by men who resisted the doctrine of secession to the last, and it will survive so long as any vestige of liberty is left.

One great advantage we have, and one that hardly could have been foreseen ex-cept by those who know the Southern char-acter well, and that is the harmony of our people. During the war the writers who gloried over our prospective failure, used to depict in vivid colors the hell of remorse and recrimination into which we should be plunged when we saw that all our nefarious schemes had been blasted. And so it would have been if our struggle had been a selfish speculation or a wicked conspiracy. But we are conscious of high and noble aims, and we cannot feel remorse for having done what we thought was right.

The English Liberal papers continue to expose and denounce unsparingly the massacre of the blacks in Jamaica by the British authorities. The London Star, of the 1st inst., commenting on Gov. Eyre's message, says: "It talks over and over again of a 'diabolical conspiracy,' of a 'wicked and unprovoked rebellion;' but it is careful not to allude to any evidence that aught in the nature of rebellion existed. We can only subject of congratulation, that not one human being engaged in suppressing it received the slightest personal injury. Such a rebellion Governor Eyre affirms 'is not, I believe, to be met with in history.' We quite agree with him. You may ransack ancient and modern history in vain for any record of a 'diabolical and widespread rebelliar' which was not down by treepe of bellion' which was put down by troops of whom not one received so much as a nature of rebellion existed. We can only estimate the character of the revolutionary movement from the fact, so often made the subject of congratulation, that not one huwhom not one received so much as a scratched face or a cut finger in the execution of his duty. But touching the case of Gordon, Gov. Eyre preserves an ominous silence. He has big words to praise the Maroons. He has other big words to denounce "the pseudo-philanthropists in England and this country." But his affection for the Maroons and his anger against the philanthropists seem to have washed the case of Gordon clean out of his memory. The vindication of the slaying of this man, for which we were bidden to wait in patience, and which we were angrily told would be so conclusive and triumphant, is still kept in secret by Gov. Eyre.

IN NEW YOR . WEST TWENTY-E'GHTH ST., NEAR BROADWAY To our Brethren in Christ Jesus, to whom these presents may come, we send Love and Christain Salutation: may come, we send Love and Christain Salutation:

Dear Berthern: By the gracious providence of our Heavenly Father, we have succeeded in getting a new and commodious house of wor. hip in this great city.

Our new edifice is on one of the most pleasant and accessible localities, being between the Fifth an I Sixth Avenues, undisturbed by the din of business, and yet conveniently near to all the principal stopping places, by means of street railway and omnibus communication.

The building is a fine one and well acapted to our necessities, and we desire that it shall be a pleasant place of worship for all our brethren who may visit the metroposities. The object of this circular is to invite our brethren from every part of the country, who may visit New York, to come and worship with us. We invite the interests of the Redeemer's Kingdom in this, the largest, city on this continent. the Redeemer's Kingdom in this, the largest, city on this continent.

We desire to make the Christian Church one of Heaven's "Golden Candlesticks" for the illumination of this great commercial center, and in this behalf we sak the prayers, and, as far as it is possible, the co-operation of the Christian brotherhood everywhere.

Praying that peace and prosperity may attend all who love our Lord Jesus Christ in sincerity.

We are, in Gospel bonds, ever and fraternally yours,

In De Kalb, Ill., on the 18th, Henry C. Atwood killed his wife by shooting her with a revolver. He alleges that the occurrence was accidental; but there being suspicious circumstances connected with the affair, he has been arrested and held for bail.

The Valparaiso (Ind.) Republic having mentioned Speaker Colfax as the most probable successor of United States Senator Lane, Mr. C. has addressed a letter to the editor, in which he says: "I am not, as I never have been, a candidate for Senator. If I remain in public life, I prefer service in the House."

The State Department in Washington has been furnished with a list of the names of the makers and the several numbers of forty-nine chronometers found on board the rebel pirate Shenandoah, a portion of the proceeds of Waddell's plunderings and burnings of American vessels in the Pacific and Arctic oceans.

At Galesburg, Ills., a few days ago, John Johnson, a soldier of the 43d Illinois regi-ment, was attacked, in a low saloon, by a desperado named Culver, and so badly in-jured that he died on the 21st. Upon hear-ing of his death, the soldiers in the vicinity mobbed the saloon, destroyng everything they could lay hands upon. Culver has been arrested. Gen. Butler's celebrated tower near Bermuda Hundreds, from which, for so many months, lynx-eyed sentinels pried into the movements of the rebel troops, was the other day sold at public auction for the sum of five dollars. There were at least thirty cords of good timber in the structure. Al of the other Government property brought remarkably high prices.

England. THE JOHN MORGAN PARTY.

It will be seen by reference to the columns Howard Smith, who was John Morgan's Adjutant General, during all his thieving and bank-robbing opperations in Kentucky, is the favorite candidate of that party for Clerk of the Court of Appeals of Kentucky. This is narrowing the issue down to a single [point-and the people of Kentucky at the next August election, will be called upon to approve or disapprove the career of the free-booter, John Morgan, by the election or rejection of his Adjutant General.

Of course Smith will make the race: for if a convention of the rebel party shall be called he will receive the nomination because of the admiration of that party for their hero, John Morgan. If the Conservatires attempt to concoct a convention for the purpose of ruling him off the track, he will run in spite of them, and yet double the number of votes they can give any man they may nominate against him.

So we are at last to have a fair contest in Kentucky between the friends and foes of the John Morgan party, and we are truly glad that the honest issue is at last made, and about to be finally decided. It has been a disputed and vexed question for years whether the John Morgan party really was in the majority in Kentucky

The recent proceedings in the Kentucky Legislature have no doubt induced the belief that the Morgan party could carry the State, and hence Morgan's Adjutant General has improved upon the hint, and anounced himself a candidate in order to test the question: and we must admire his devotion to the memory of fallen chief. The truth of history demands that the people of Kentucky should take a direct vote upon he approval or disapproval of John Morgan's career. All who indorse his career ill vote for Smith-all who condemn it

WHAT THE SOUTH LOST BY PRE-CIPITATING A REBELLION.

When the administration of James Buchanan was on its last legs, the great Compromise Committee, of which the illustried the following proposed amendment to the Constitution;

Article 13.-No amendment shall be made to the Constitution which shall authorize or give to Congress the power to abolish or interfere, within any State, with the domestic institutions thereof, including that of persons held to labor or service by the laws of said State.

The rampant traitorous representatives had withdrawn, but notwithstanding this fact, this proposition received twenty-four votes in the Senate against twelve, and in the house one hundred and thirty-three against sixty-five. Nearly five bitter years ow, with desolated States, the South hears the national will announce, that in lieu of that proposed 13th article offered early in 1861, this is the 13th article of the Constitution of the United States:

Article XIII-Section 1. Neither slavery nor involuntary servitude, except as a punishment for crime whereof the party shall have been duly convicted, shall exist within the United States or any place subject to their jurisdiction.

Sec. 2. Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation. How true it is of nations, as well as of individuals, that "a divinity shapes our ends, rough-hew them as we may." But for the ontumacy of the South, it is possible that she might have rivetted the chains of slavery by constitutional enactment, for dreary centuries. Providence ordered and guided a different result. The nation has taken her place in the front rank of the respectable nations of the earth.

We have seen the lithographic stone referred to, and we entertain no doubt of its perfect equality to the best stone of that character in Bavaria. But we can more easily find the rock than St. Louis county, Kentucky. The quarry is in the property of Geo. W. Anderson, of this city, and is at Grahamton, in Mead county. It is in good hands, and will, undoubtedly, be well developed.

If this lithographic quarry is worked, we hope that the quarrymen will be impressed with the fact that in Bayaria some of the rarest of all fossil remains have been discovered. That fossil which has astonished paleontologists, the Archeopterix Macrurus, was discovered recently in a lithographic quarry in Solen-Hofen.

"Kentucky Neutrality." The Journal says, "it was the secessionists, the rebels, who opposed neutrality, thinking to hurry Kentucky into the Confederate cause. The South was, many 'distinguished and undistinguished men of the South, who went into the rebellion," from Kentucky, prepared, under the guise of neutrality, to ignore, cast off, and defy the Government of the United States, and to "take Kentucky out of the Union, or take her to h-ll." Under the cloak of neutrality, they whetted their daggers to stab the heart of our country and our hearts. The great danger to Kentucky arose from the joint conspiracy and joint action of secession insiders and outsiders who befriended and used "Kentucky neutrality" as a convenient mask and foil, whilst privately contending and at last proclaiming through their Courier and other organs, in and out of Kentucky, that her neutrality sundered her every connection with the "Lincoln Government," absolved her from every duty thereto, was, in logic and in fact, secession from the "Abolition Union."

COPPERHEAD would-be monopolizers of Kentucky sentiment can be offset and counteracted only by "radical" papers liberally patronized and sustained by all the radical strength in the State. The extent to which the former still control and dehauch public opinion is seriously detrimental to Kentucky's standing and present and future well-being. They will not at all moderate and reform except under the contracting influence of ample radical competition.

Over three years ago I said that slavery, as a political power and social and economic institution, was doomed, and that "we might as well open our eyes and war roll their bloody revolutions, and gracefully submit to its manifest fate. As the immediate or eventual result of this war of rebellion, the South, instead of revolutionizing and Africanizing the North, will herself be revolutionized, replanted, regenerated and Abolitionized."

Remarkable Case.

A Kalamazoo, Michigan, correspondent of the Detroit Advertiser relates the fol-

"A Mrs. Howland, who has long been a resident of this county, and who has been hopelessly insane for nearly thirty years was sent for by her husband in California. Accompanied by a daughter-in-law, they left here and proceeded on the journey by steamer. When out about four days from New York a most violent storm arose, which lasted three days, seriously threatening the destruction of the steamer and all on board, When, however, the storm abated, what was the surprise and delight of the daughter to find that the old lady had suddenly recovered her mind and was perfectly sane; though she was at a loss to know how she was in the place, and under the circum-stances she found herself on awakening from such a long sleep of the intellectual faculties, On arriving at San Francisco, what was the astonishment of her husband to meet her whom he had not seen for nine years, and whom he deemed hopelessly a maniac, sound and well, and joyfully recognizing him. This was a year ago. Letters recently received by her friends here state that there has been no return of > CHRISTMAS SUPERSTITIONS .- It was an old English superstition that on Christmas eve the oxen were found on their knees, as in an attitude of devotion, and that after the change from old to new style they continued to do this only on the eve of old Christmas day. This was derived from a prevalent mediæval notion that an ox and an ass which were present at the nativity of Christ fell upon their knees in a suppliant posture, as appears from numerous prints, and from the Latin poem of Sannazarius, in the 15th century.

RIOTOUS CONDUCT AT THE INTERNATION-AT. RESTAURANT.-A disgraceful riot occurred last night about 6 o'clock in Pargny's Saloon. A man by the name of Lee 🐯 Dinkelspiel was the main cause of the difficulty. We chanced to pass the scene just as the affray was coming to a culminating point, and saw that Dinkelspiel, face all Z bloody, was beset by a number of persons. Frank Fox, the clerk of the house, in attempting to quell the difficulty was shot in the thigh with a pistol in the hands of Dinkelspiel, probably accidentally. Another shot was fired subsequently by Dick Seay, mon translation, is written with decided after taking deliberate aim, but he missed his object.

NEW YORK, December 24.—The charges of scandalous outrages on the part of the members of a Fenian circle in Jersey City members of a Fenian circle in Jersey City yesterday are made by a man named Chas. W. Hewman, living in that town. He alleges that he was seized on the street Friday night, dragged into a Fenian Lodge room, charged with being a British spy, put on trial, and subjected to various indignities. During a struggle which ensued he succeeded in making his escape.

Mexican News--Further Correspondence between Gen's Weitzel and Mejia. New York, Dec. 24th.—The Herald's Brownville correspondent states that the outrages to which the people are subjected by Maximillians European troops, and the state of anarchy which prevails even in that portion of Mexican territory which he delive to have completely under his sway. claims to have completely under his sway, notwithstanding the repeated boasts that order and happiness were to be the sure accompanement of his reign, forced loans of money and other property are constantly being collected by the Imperial soldiers at the roint of the bayonet and citizens who the point of the bayonet, and citizens who demur to such treatment incur the penalty of death or imprisonment.

Some additional correspondence passed about the beginning of the month between Gen. Weitzel, commanding the United States troops on the Rio Grand, and Gen. Mejia, Imperial commander at Matamoras, each urging grievances inflicted by the other. Gen. Weitzel alleges that Gen. Mejia had, on mere suspicion, imprisoned in-nocent Americad citizens, and inform him, by direction of Gen. Sheridan, that if such outrages are repeated no personal apolo-gies, in lieu of his bad faith, will be accepted, and strongly intimates that he will be be authorized to settle the matter by force of arms. General Mejia's complaint is the old one of aid and comfort given to the Mexican Republicans by Gen. Weitzel's troops. Gen. Weitzel says he is ordered to say that hereafter when any garrison under Mejia's command is in a state of siege no supplies of any kind will be permitted to be sent to such garrison from this side.

Gen. Sheridan considering that it would be less of a violation of neutrality against the legitimate authority in Mexico to send powder to such garrison and that he is ordered to stop all interests with any garrison during the progress of a siege, except that which humanity shall dictate.

Frauds in Navy Yards--Attempted Murder and Suicide. NEW YORK, Dec. 24.—J. B. Nedder, special Inspector of Navy Yards, is now engaged in inaugurating a new system of navy accounts, by which it is expected to prevent any future frauds on the Government. He has visited the navy yards at Philadelphia and Boston, where the new new system has been successfully introduced, and is now discharging the same duty at the Brooklyn Navy Yard. A startling case of attempted murder and subsequent attempted suicide transpired in Brooklyn last evening. The parties in the affair have heretofore occupied the highest positions in the estimation of their friends, and that of the lady is still unimpaired. Their names are W. H. Russ, a bookkeeper, in the office of the Mexican National Loan Company, in this city, and Miss Frances M. Dayton, a native of Washington, Litchenfield county. Connecticut, the former a lover of the latter, thinking he had been deceived or made insane by some unknown cause; while walking with the lady near her residence, suddenly drew a revolver, and fired four shots at her, wounding her severely in the head, and then turning the weapon on himself, fired two shots into his own skull.

Thinking the woman dead he then ran to

Dispatch from Gov. Holden, of North Car-WASHINGTON, Dec. 24. — The following telegram has been received from Raleigh, North Carolina, dated the 23d:
To Hon. Wm. H. Seward, Secretary of State—Sir: Your dispatch of this date, relieving me of my duty as Provisional Governor of North Carolina, has been received. It gives me pleasure to be relieved of the responsibilities and labors of the office. I will at once transfer the great seal, the papers and property of the State, now in my possession, to the Hon. Jonathan Worth, the Governor elect. Be pleased to convey to the President my sincere acknowledgments of the honor he has done me and the confidence reposed in me in calling me to this position, with the expression of the hope that his plan for reconstructing the in-surgent States to their national and appro-priets place in the Union may be growned.

W. H. HOLDEN. Bank Circulation --- Richmond Railroad. NEW YORK, December 24.-The World's Washington special says the circulation of the National Bank has incressed by the is-

The people acknowledge the Juarez government, but passports are offered by the authority of either government as the applicant might wish. The French troops left Monterey about the 1st of November, reaching Saltillo on the 6th, when 400 native taoops left for that city and the French withdrew. The French commander gives as a reason for his withdrawal, the unhealthiness of the place at Saltillo.

French officers stated that they were going on the Son Luis Potosi; that they had too few troops to hold so large an extent of country, and that the threatened insurrection in the vicinity of the City of Mexico rendered concentration necessary. The rendered concentration necessary. The sale of large quantities of supplies in Mon-terey, which would have been necessary for the sustainance of troops had they re-mained in Saltillo, rendered this probable. The French administration of affairs about Monterey have been very tyrannical, and the people everywhere were more dissatis-fied with the Empire than they had previously been with the Republic. Many com-plaints were made made of outrages committed on the citizens by French officers particulary upon Americans and other for

THE ONL PLACE WHERE A CURE CAN BE OBTAINED. D.B. FISHBLATF MAS DISCOVERED THE MOST certain, speedy and effectual remedy in the world for Weakness of the Back or Limbs, Strictures, Affections of the Kidneys and Budder, Involventary Discharges, Impotency, General Debility, Nervousness, Dyspepsia, Langor, Low Spiritz, Confusion of Ideaz, Palpitation of the Heart, Timidity, Trembling, Dimness of Sight or Giddiness, Diseases of the Head, Throat, Nose or Skin, Affections of the Liver, Lungs, Stomach or Bowels—those terrible disorders arising from Solitary Habits of Youth—secret and solitary practices more fatal to their victims than the song or Syrens to the Mariners of Ulyses, blighting their most brilliant hopes or anticipations, rendering marriage, etc., impossible.

YOUNG MEN especially, who have become the victims of Solitary Vice that dreadful and destructive habit which annually sweeps to an untimely grave thousands of young men of the most exalted talents and brilliant intellect, who migh otherwise entrance listening Senates with the thunders of eloquence, for wake to ecstacy the living-lyre, may cal with full confidence.

MARRIAGE.

Married persons, or young men contemplating marriage, being aware of Physical Weakness, Organic Debility, Deformities, specify cured.

He who places himself under the care of Dr. F. may religiously confide in his honor as a gentleman and confidently rely upon his skill as a physician. ORGANIC WEAKNESS mmediately cured and full vigor restored.

This distressing affection, which renders life miserable and marriage impossible, is the penaity paid by the victims of improper indulgences. Young persons are too apt to commit excesses from not being aware of the dreadful consequences that may ensue. Now who that understands the subject will pretend to deny that the power of procreation is lost sooner by those falling into improper habits than by the prudent? Besides, being deprived of healthy offspring, the most serious and destructive symptoms of both body and mind arise. The system becomes deranged, the physical and mental functions weakened, loss of procreative power, nervous irritability, dyspepsis, palpitation of the heart, indigestron, constitutional debility and wasting of the frame, cough, consumption, decay and death.

DR. FISHBLATT graduated from one of the most eminent colleges in the United States; has effected some of the most astonishing cures that were ever known; many troubled with ringing in the head and ears when asleep, great nervousness, being alarmed at sudden sounds, bashfulness, with frequent blushing, attended sometimes with derangement of mind, were immediately cured.

TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE. Dr. F. addresses all those who have injured themselves y improper indulgence and solitary habits, which ruin oth body and mind, unfitting them for either business, both bod) and mind, unbtting them for either business, study, society or marriags.

These are some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, viz: Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Pains in the Head, Dimness of Sight, Loss of Muscular Power, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous Irritability, Derangement of the Digestive Functions, General Deblity, Symptoms of Consumption, etc. MENTALX.—The fearth effects of the mind are much to be dreaded. Logs of Memory, Confusion of Ideas, Depression of Spirits, Evil Forebodings, Aversion to Society, Self-Distrust, Love of Solitude, Timidity, etc., are some of the evils produced.

Thousands of persons of all ages can now judge what is the cause of their declining health, losing their vigor, becoming weak, pale, nervous, and emaciated, having a singular appearance about the eyes, cough and symptoms of consumption.

XOUNG MEN

YOUNG MEN who have injured themselves by a certain practice induged in when alone, a habit frequently learned from evil companions, or at schoel, the effects of which are nightly felt, ev. n seleep, and, lift not cured, renders marriage impossible, and destroys both mind and body, should riage impossible, and destroys both mind and ever, apply immediately.

He says: Under the provisions of the 41st section of the National Currency Act, I have deen ed it my duty to require to be included among deposits subject to duty the undi-vided profits of a bank. It has always been clear to me that profits should pay a duty under this section. The question might be raised, should they pay duty as depositors or as capital; it appearing to me that they were more in the nature of a deposit than of capital, I have directed that they be so classed. The duty on deposits and on capital is fixed at the same rate. So it being directed that the profits were to pay duty would make no difference in the amount, with the exception of the followamount, with the exception of the following instance: A few banks may possibly own United States bonds in excess of their capital. The House failed to pass the usual appropriation bills. The Governor vetoed the bill suspending the collection of taxes for 1861, 1862, 1863, and 1864, on the ground that it would afford re-lief to those who had attempted to destroy lief to those who had attempted to destroy the Government, and who were absent from the State during the war, while the Union men who remained paid the taxes.

The Vicksburg Journal has advices, which it deems reliable, of an alarming character from Yazoo. The people of the country are reported to be flying to the towns for protection, and the negroes are represented to be arming themselves, and claim that between now and Christmas the land must be given to them or they will take it by force. The colored troops stationed there are espousing the cause of the negroes. Serious trouble is apprehended.

Gen. Grant was not present on Tuesday night last, when he was called on to give his views on his recent trip South.

The report of Carl Schurz on the condition of the South was published this morning. It is quite lengthy, filling the closely-printed columns of the Tribune. General S. says at the time he went South he found the people recovering from the peculiar state of ple recovering from the peculiar state of mind into which the surrender of Gen. Lee plunged them. He says the public was so despondent, that, if readmission at some future time, under whatever condition, had been promised, it would then have been looked upon as a favor. The most uncompromising rebels were prepared for leaving the country, and the masses remained in a state of expectancy. He says he now finds four classes, whom he characterizes as follows:

1. Those who, although having yielded submission to the National Government, only when obliged to do so, have clear perceptions of the irreversible changes produced by war, and honestly endeavored to accommodate themselves to the new order of things.

accommodate themselves to the new order of things.

2. Those whose principal objects are to have the States without delay restored to their position and influence in the Union, and the people of the States to absolute control of their home concerns. They are ready, in order to obtain that object, to make any ostensible concessions that will not prevent them from arranging things to not prevent them from arranging things to suit their taste as soon as that object is atained.

3. Incorrigibles who still indulge in which was so customary before 3, Incorrigibles who still indulge in swagger which was so customary before and during the war, and still hope for the time when the Southern Confederacy will achieve its independence. The history of the world will be searched in vain for a proceeding similar to this which did not lead to violent reaction or to the most serious trouble and civil disorder. I believe it will prove far civil disorder. I believe it will prove lar more dangerous for the integrity of loyal self-government if national control in the South be discontinued; while, by discon-tinuing it too soon, it may be rendered ne-cessary again in the future; when, by dis-continuing it but a limited time for all, the future necessity may be avoided. He adfuture necessity may be avoided. He advocates the encouragement of education among the freedmen, and in his conclusion, makes the following remarks: The loyalty of the masses and of most of the leaders o the Southern people consists in submission to necessity.

The emancipation of slaves is submitted to only in so far as chattel slavery in the old form could not be kept up; but, although the freedman is no longer considered the property of an individual master, he is considered the slave of society, and all in dependent State legislation will show a ten-

The practical attempts on the part of the Southern people to deprive the negro of his rights as a freedman may result in bloody collision and will certainly plunge South-ern society into restless fluctuations and anarchial confusion. The solution of the problem will be very much facilitated by enabling all the loyal and free labor ele-ments of the South to exercise a healthy

WEEKLY REVIEW.

During the week just closed the transactions, excel ng to the jobbing and retail trade have been of rather well sustained in all departments, especially flour an grain, with only a moderate supply. The provision market closes rather firmer, with a slight upward ten dency for the hog product, which had declined considerate ably during the week. It has now fully recovered the depression, as the fact is generally conceded that the hos op will fall far short of the previous season in numbers. hough not in weight.

The sales of leaf tobacco in this market will be su nded all the ensuing, or Christmas week, the buyer and warehouse-men having by mutual agreement concluded to hold a week's holiday. Pork packing and hog slaughtering is rather more ac tive than at any former period this season, with increas-ing receipts, and sales of 1630 head, in two lots, to packers at 9/4c, gross, delivered at the pens; also sales at $10 75/4c $11 50, net. The slaughter around the falls up to this evening amounts to 22,480; with over 3000 in pen, and expected during the night. The receipts by the railroads were 3900. Sales this week of 19,300 green hams from the block at 15c. The firm of A. S. White & Co. has slaughtered 3400 hogs, including 800 to-day, and they were expecting the arrival of 1000 by the Louisville and Frankfort Railroad, and a drove of 1700, driven in on foot. c gross, with sales of 900 hogs, in two lots, at $9@9 s, all heavy weights

Coal dealers have by general consent concluded to lower the retail rate of Pittsburg coal, with sales at 28c pe ushel, or $7 per load of 25 bushels, delivered.

Breadstuffs are improving, with sales of over 2800 barrel chiefly on 'Change, at $7@7 50 for superfine, $8 50@8 75 for plain extra, and $9 50@10 50 for extra family, with jobbing sales at 25 to 50c per bbl advance, as to quality of brands. THIS GREAT NATIONAL THOROUGHFABE IS FREIGHTS AND TRAVEL.

The cars and machinery destroyed are being replaced new running stock, with all recent improvements; and the bridges and track are again in substantial condi-on, the well-earned reputation of this road for Speed, Security and Comfort will be more than sustained under the reorganization of its business.

In addition to the unequalled attractions of natural scenery heretofore conceded to this route, the recent troubles upon the border have associated numerous points on the road, between the Ohio river and Harper's Ferry with painful but instructive interest.

At the Ohio river, with Cleveland and Pittsburg, Central Ohio, and Mareitta and Cincinnati railroads, and, through them with the whole railway system of the northwest, central west and southwest; at Harper's Ferry with the Winchester road. At Washington Junction with the Washington Branch for Washington City and the lower Petomac. At Baltimore with seven daily trains for Philadelphia and New York.

TWO DOLLARS additional on Through Tickets from Baltimore or the Northern cities, give the privilege of visiting WASHINGTON CITY on route—being 83 lower than the cost by any other line, as recently charged.

This is the only route by which passengers can procure through tickets and through checks from Washington Oky. W. P. SMITH, Master of Trans., Baltimore. I. M. Cole Gen. Ticket Agent, Baltimore. CONNECTIONS

MEDICAL.

It is not necessary to publish a long list of diseases to which the CEDRON BITTERS are a Specific. In diseases of the STOMACH, BOWELS, LIVER KIDNEYS; in affections of the BRAIN, depending upon derangement of the Stomach or Bowels; in GOUT, RHEUMATISM and NEURALGIA, and 2 FEVER and AGUE, it is destined to supersede other remedies. It not only cures these diseases, but prevents them. A wine-glass full of the BITTERS taken an hour before each meal, will obviate the ill-effect of the most unhealthy climate, and secure the akes against diseases under the most rying exposure. PREPARED BY

NEWSPAPER. SEVENTH VOLUME COMMENCES JANUARY 6, 1866.

THE METHODIST:

8-Page Religious Weekly Newspaper. THIS JOURNAL, NOW IN ITS SIXTH YEAR, HAS acquired a reputation equal to the first religious and literary periodicals of the age. INDEPENDENT, FRATERNAL And PROGRESSIVE, it stands forth the uncompromising Advocate of LAY REPRESENTION in the METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

As a Family Newspaper, it has no superior. Its chief in sare to preach the principles of our common Christianity, circulate a pure literature, furnish intelligence denominations, and to cultivate a spirit of brotherly love and unity among all Christiane a spirit of brotherly love and unity among all christians. comprehensive religious perfecticals origin.
In typographical appearance The Methods has no surperior, being printed on good paper, with the best of ink, from the clearest of type, on one of the costliest of presses.
It is paged and indexed, for filing and binding—a single volume making a little library of itself.
The News Lepartment is under the supervision of an Editor, who makes that one thing a specialty; so that the reader of The Methodist gets the latest, most carefully arranged and reliable account of the current events of the stirring times in which we live.
The Children's Department alone has attracted more attention from teachers and the friends of youth than most of the exclusively juvenile periodical extant.
The Financial, Commercial and Agricultural Columns are crowded with invaluable information for business men, mechanics, manufacturers and farmers, and are brought up weekly to the very hour of going to press.
Altogether, as a religious and literary weekly newspaper, The Methodist has been pronounced by disinterested judges to be without a superior in point of talent, beauty and punctuality. It svisits to any household will pay back its price, to every care ut reader, a hundred-fold.
